IMPORTANT RESOURCES

For most of the country, but especially for birds, spring is in full swing, bringing with it the regular hustle and bustle of nesting season. Local birds and returning migrants are searching for nesting sites and quick access to building materials. The less time and energy birds and other wildlife devote to searching for sites and supplies, the more successful they can be. Let native plants provide these resources, naturally.

April is a good time to:

- offer safe nesting materials
- put out your bat houses.
- sow more seeds for next year's nests.
